

Abstract

There is a startling lack of adult education classes on the Holy Spirit due, in part, to the Spirit's complicated theology and third-place status. To help adult Christians better understand and appreciate the Holy Spirit, a three-session workshop, Fire Up Your Faith, was developed to explore and discuss the presence of the Holy Spirit in Scripture, Christian tradition, prayer, and reflection. The results show a very positive response to the workshop and a hunger for more theological education on the Holy Spirit.
